Section D of the musical score for 'St Louis Blues' spans measures 1 through 6. It is written for a piano with four staves. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The first three staves (treble clef) contain the melody, while the fourth staff (bass clef) provides the harmonic accompaniment. Measure 1 begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking. The melody features eighth and sixteenth note patterns, with some notes beamed together. The bass line consists of a steady eighth-note accompaniment. Measure 4 contains a triplet of eighth notes in the bass line. Measure 6 ends with a repeat sign.

E

Section E of the musical score for 'St Louis Blues' spans measures 7 through 12. It continues the four-staff piano arrangement. The melody in the first three staves continues with similar rhythmic patterns, including some rests. The bass line maintains the eighth-note accompaniment, with triplet markings appearing in measures 8, 10, and 12. Measure 12 concludes with a repeat sign.

The final section of the musical score on this page spans measures 13 through 18. It continues the four-staff piano arrangement. The melody and bass line follow the established patterns, with triplet markings in the bass line at measures 15 and 16. Measure 18 ends with a repeat sign.

The first system of musical notation consists of five staves. The top four staves are in treble clef, and the bottom staff is in bass clef. The music is in 4/4 time and features a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The first staff contains a melody with eighth and sixteenth notes. The second and third staves provide harmonic support with chords and moving lines. The fourth staff continues the melodic line. The bottom staff features a complex bass line with triplets and sixteenth notes, including dynamic markings like accents and slurs.

The second system of musical notation continues the piece with five staves. It maintains the same instrumentation and key signature. The melody in the top staves is more active, with various rests and note values. The bass staff continues with intricate patterns, including triplets and sixteenth notes. A specific instruction 'Rim Shots' is written above the bass staff, indicating a rhythmic technique for the drums. Dynamic markings like accents and slurs are used throughout.

The third system of musical notation is the final system on this page, consisting of five staves. It features a variety of musical notations, including slurs, accents, and dynamic markings. The top staves show a melodic line with a crescendo leading to a fortissimo (ff) section. The bass staff continues with complex rhythmic patterns, including triplets and sixteenth notes. A piano (p) marking is visible at the end of the system. The overall texture is dense and rhythmic.
